HISTORY
of
SINGAPORE TEST MATCHES
2014 - 2018

Touch Singapore held its first affiliated National Touch Championship on August 17th 2002. Brian O'Connor foresight and innovation saw Singapore become the hub of Touch Football in Asia with Singapore hosting an Annual Clubs Tournament commencing in 2002. the World Club Championships in 2004, the Asian All Schools in 2005 and the Asian & World University's Touch Championships in 2006.

Development in the region didn't stop there. Brian organised Women 20, Women Open and Women 27 teams to attend the Australian National Titles in 2010. It was that same year he organised the first Test series with the Host nation Men's Team taking on Scotland.

A new administration in 2017 saw the countries second test match played against Japan in the Women's Open division
